14th European Meeting on Fat Soluble Vitamins

Invitation

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

we are pleased to invite you to participate in the 14th European Meeting on Fat-Soluble Vitamins which will be held from 1 to 3 October 2009 in Potsdam, Germany. This international event will give you the opportunity to mix science, culture and tourism in a part of Germany where you will be able to enjoy the natural environment, local history and art in all its forms: Potsdam and Berlin.

The 14th European Meeting on Fat-Soluble Vitamins will be the focus for experts from Europe over who will be presenting state-of-the-art information on fat-soluble vitamins. The Meeting will be located right in the heart of the city of Potsdam.

Potsdam is just minutes away from the German capital Berlin and is easily accessible through two airports from all over the world.

Come and see for yourself!
